Interesting. @GaryGensler runs to the media while reports to my office allege he was helping SBF and FTX work on legal loopholes to obtain a regulatory monopoly. We're looking into this.

#tether processed ~700M redemptions in last 24h.
No issues.
We keep going.

Good luck to the @cointipster community out there

I hope this is your $80 \$ETH moment.

A strong and committed community is waiting on the other side of this pro tip

If you still have funds in FTX, it's time to download transactions / balance screenshots with a time stamp that can link your holdings to your name in case you need extra proof if this will be solved in legal action.

Do it asap before they take the website down.

So WSJ says FTX had $16b in customer assets, and they gave $10b to Alameda who blew it all...

Unbelievable

What was SBF lobbying against? DeFi. 🤔

What would have prevented this? DeFi. 🤔

What exchanges already publish real-time proof-of-reserves? DeFi. 🤔

What will US regulators try to shut down? DeFi. 🤔

 After Hodlnaut defrauded their customers by secretly putting everything into UST, the court-appointed judicial managers stored the leftover funds for creditors in various places for safekeeping... Including $13m in FTX. RIP, double rugged.

 I couldn't imagine FTX meltdown being a big issue as I haven't used centralized exchanges for almost 2 years since DeFi became easier to use. Would not actually even compare FTX to Mt. Gox since DeFi didn't exist back then as a safety net and Mt. Gox had 70% of the volumes no one:

absolutely no one:

me: web3 is an evolutionary ecosystem. in abundant times 100s of experiments will blossom. in scarce times, 97% will fail. but 3% that survive will be the keystone species of next boom. innovate, iterate, evolve, repeat. its elegant, even beautiful!

 PSA: Do Not send USDC via @wormholecrypto. They will take control of your funds, refuse to bridge them, and refuse to return them by claiming some BS value limit breach (which they should tell you b4 send Tx is confirmed). They will then block redemptions

 The conversation will now flip back to whether the Fed will pivot or not.

If November CPI comes in below expectations, the next discussion will be rate cuts.

FOMO is quickly returning.

Regardless, you know economy is in a horrible spot when 7.7% inflation becomes bullish.

We just went through one of the worst left tail events possible and the cross is barely changed. This is a new regime. ETH is becoming the go to reserve currency of crypto. Turns out structural changes do matter.

The real bad debt is the reputation our industry keeps lending to scammers and sociopaths by elevating them and allowing them to represent us in the public sphere.

Now we all have to pay it down.

Camila Russo @CamiRusso · 57m

Respectable people keep explaining away FTX/Alameda's fallout by saying "liquidity crunch."

If it's true that they were lending out FTX customer funds to Alameda against FTT collateral, that's not a "liquidity crunch," that's a scam.
